About:

I am a stay-at-home Mom and “domestic engineer” with two beautiful daughters and a passion for saving money and helping others do the same! Sharing everything from free deals to coupons to discounts, there are so many ways to save money in every aspect of your life and my goal is to share this blessing with as many people as possible.

My Coupon Lady has quickly become a go-to site for many looking for ways to save money and is continuing to grow daily! Saving money isn't just about coupons but also about making wise purchases, which is where our honest and thorough reviews are a heavy influence.

Promotions:

- A non-returnable sample or product is required, I apologize for any inconvenience but all products are used to give an honest experience.
- Any stipulations or requirements must be forwarded to me at the time the product is received.
- Any negative experience with the product will be addressed with the company before any posts to allow them to fix the issue.
- Giveaway time length varies by product and promotion, if you would like a specific time period that needs to be disclosed otherwise I will use my own.
- All giveaway products will be held by company until a winner is chosen. (Exceptions to this may include gift cards)
